11:46:16 From Carolyn Good to Everyone : Margo that was brilliant!

11:46:19 From RACHEL to Everyone : So encouraging Margo thank you!

11:46:20 From Sylvia to Everyone : A little suggestion...avoid montbretia if possible, though gorgeous its invasive,,check the pollinar plan for a wide range of suggested plants.

11:46:29 From glenise.morgan@gmail.com to Everyone : Both speakers so inspirational!

11:46:33 From caroline goucher Westport to Everyone : well done

11:46:50 From Trevor to Everyone : GRMA Margo. Is féidir linn cinnte!

11:46:55 From Alice Carew to Everyone : I have got loads for our eco-parish, thanks so much. It is lovely to see you Sr Catherine.

11:46:59 From Martin Bennett to Everyone : Any suggestions about heating in Churches?

11:47:02 From Eleanor Duff to Everyone : Thank you both speakers, very encouraging

11:48:03 From Janet Twomey to Everyone : Thank you Carolyn and Margo. Very inspiring to hear your stories. Some great ideas.

11:48:10 From Miriam Mooney Dublin Bay South to Everyone : Need to provide homes for solitary bees

11:48:12 From Dean Venables to Everyone : Great presentations & hugely impressive work! Can Carolyn share hers with us?

11:48:13 From caroline goucher Westport to Everyone : to both speakers - is any there an development inter Church aspect

11:48:13 From Ken Orr to Everyone : Encouraging wild bees is just as important, and in some ways easier! See the All Ireland Pollinastor Plan

11:48:34 From Helen Brown to Everyone : please would Carolyn, Carlow, share her document with me, my shorthand skills are zero. It was all very encouraging. We're in our infancy.

11:48:46 From Andrew Kingston to Everyone : Thank you Trevor. Good ideas.

11:48:58 From sally simpson to Everyone : Has anyone looked at ethical investments of parish funds?

11:49:11 From Carolyn Good to Everyone : Yes I am happy to share the presentation.

11:50:15 From Jane Mellett to Everyone : <https://3cea.ie/> were present at the Carlow Laudato Si conference as well as reps from SEAI who delivered workshops.

11:51:33 From Eric Conroy to Everyone : Can parishioners in country areas reduce their transport carbon footprint by reducing car usage and taking up cycling including electric bikes which are great?

11:51:37 From Jane Mellett to Everyone : <https://www.seai.ie/>

11:52:19 From Jane Mellett to Everyone : Also contact your local county council who gave presentations and who were very enthusiastic about funding available with regard to energy projects.

11:52:23 From Maureen Rowan to Everyone : Has any congregation combined to access locally grown vegetables in bulk so that members can buy them each week to cut down on plastic packaging and reduce travel?

11:52:27 From Trevor to Everyone : Good point Ken. Generally beekeepers are keen to nurture other bee species also and other pollinators by suggesting natural planting and landscaping.

11:52:37 From Alice Carew to Everyone : Esb now allowing solar power to be bought back

11:53:04 From caroline goucher to Everyone : <https://www.seai.ie/community-energy/sustainable-energy-communities/start-an-energy-community/>

11:53:38 From Sylvia to Everyone : Check to see if there is an SEC Sustainable Energy Cooperative in your area, All on SEAI website.

11:54:17 From Alice Carew to Everyone : Can we involve non-parishioners?

11:54:44 From John & Patricia McCormack to Everyone : Any plans to engage with COP26 - Glasgow Nov '21

11:54:57 From Sylvia to Everyone : Yes Yes Yes..

11:55:25 From Martin Reading to Everyone : cop26 - great suggestion

11:55:43 From EcoChaplain Rev David J.M.Coleman to Everyone : Yes, I was wondering about COP too. Heavily on the agenda, with Glasgow so close, and of course, due to Zoom etc much more possibility for involvement

11:56:13 From Carolyn Good to Everyone : Thanks Dean, that's food for thought!

11:56:41 From caroline goucher to Everyone : to both speakers; how did they address their work with the heading 'Developing world' and engagement with Global Action, Climate Justice, Climate Refugees etc

11:56:50 From Justin Kilcullen to Everyone : Churches can group together and register as an SEC , Sustainable Energy Community, with the SEAI and work together with an SEAI mentor on energy saving projects. there is a 50% grant for such projects

11:58:02 From Sylvia to Everyone : Don't forget your Co Council will have a biodiversity officer. Also you can buy in some help from local biodiversity folk eg via a National Park or local biodiversity sustainable projects, the Transition movement etc

11:59:14 From Martin Reading to Everyone : Heritage Officers have information on building renovation

12:00:04 From margo delaney to Everyone : In response to global aspect, link in with GCCM and World Wide Foundation websites to name but 2 Our approach is to think globally but act locally and so follow up on campaigns set out by groups such as a listed above.

12:00:17 From Clodagh O'Reilly-Boyles to Everyone : <http://oimusica.co.uk/COP26> community arts project are inviting contributing ideas

12:00:40 From Jane Mellett to Everyone : Great song.

12:01:02 From Alice Carew to Everyone : As a Church without walls, shouldn't we embrace non parishioners in the work we do?

12:01:37 From Carolyn Good to Everyone : We actively support the Christian development agencies, invite speakers, take collections for projects and have sponsored animals and beehives.

12:01:49 From Eleanor Duff to Everyone : This also some hope from Biden in US

12:02:00 From Helen Brown to Everyone : what's C O P stand for?

12:02:10 From EcoChaplain Rev David J.M.Coleman to Everyone : Conference of the Parties

12:02:10 From Jane Mellett to Everyone : Conference of Parties

12:02:28 From EcoChaplain Rev David J.M.Coleman to Everyone : ..... the the United Nations stuff on climate change..

12:02:48 From Martin Reading to Everyone : COP 26 is follow on from Paris climate Conference

12:03:24 From Maureen O'Connor to Everyone : Yes Alice embrace and also Extension Rebellion a chance to interact with the youth

12:03:28 From Jane Mellett to Everyone : Paris was the 21st Conference. Glasgow is the 26th. (as in years!!!!)

12:03:43 From Trevor to Everyone : Excellent ideas Patrick and Kathie. Love it!

12:03:53 From sally simpson to Everyone : Being part of community based environmental groups is a way of bringing church to the community

12:04:41 From Alice Carew to Everyone : Thank you for that. It was helpful. I actually meant involving others at the committee level?

12:04:52 From Elaine Murray to Everyone : Thank you to the organisers and all the speakers. Much to think about. Unfortunately I have to go now.

12:05:40 From Eric Conroy to Everyone : Very good webinar - well done!

12:05:58 From caroline goucher to Everyone : thank You to all, ECI & speakers, nearly 90 online

12:06:33 From Kathleen Friel to Everyone : Does the title Eco Congregation give the impression this is for church only/ A different name might be more inclusive of all. This issue has come up in our Westport Eco Congregation on a number of occasions.

12:07:36 From caroline goucher to Everyone :
<https://www.facebook.com/WestportEcoCongregation/>

12:07:51 From Alice Carew to Everyone : Thanks Kathleen. Yes, because it is an issue.

12:08:19 From Bertie to Everyone : Could we have a copy of the chat and presentations please?

12:08:42 From Andrew Orr to Everyone : Thanks Kathleen, could you email us to elaborate on that further?

12:09:13 From Maureen O'Connor to Everyone : Like Mooney goes wild rte radio 1

12:09:53 From EcoChaplain Rev David J.M.Coleman to Everyone : On the name EcoCongregation: we have emphasised that congregations, fellowships, colleges and some denominational offices can register . We are outside of most official bodies so can afford to be flexible. ECI may be differently organised, though .

12:10:54 From Dean Venables to Everyone : Is ecocongregation on twitter / FB? Great way to get message out and increase visibility in certain networks

12:11:00 From Richard Beadle to Everyone : ref the swifts a blog I wrote last June. Really keen to get them in our church ideally with cameras to link with the school next door.
